Activities like “Story Telling, Quiz Competitions and Cultural Activities” are being organised in MPUPS Chintalbori school on every Saturday with co-ordination and co-operation of the villagers.

On every Saturday in the afternoon session various practices are being taken up by the staff and children as detailed below.

1. EXPLAINING OF SUMMARY / MORAL OF ANY STORY READ BY STUDENT:

On every Saturday each student of 6th and 7th classes will be given a story book or a book chosen by student and he / she will be asked to read it for a week till the next Saturday. On that next Saturday the students of the above classes who have read the stories from their books will be gathered and will be enquired by the HM whether they have read the books or not. After getting response from students, each student will be given an opportunity to tell the summary / moral of the story. And the best read student will be appreciated by the HM and staff, and will be given a prize by the chief guest of the day.

This practice has given the best results in encouraging the habit of book reading and improving the fluency in reading and speaking among the regular and other than telugu mother tongue students. And this has become a regular practice of usage of library by the students in the school.

2. SATURDAY QUIZ:

On every Saturday a subject is conducted among the students of 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. In this quiz, subject related questionnaire are prepared by the subject teachers and four groups covering all the class students are formed. Finally, winners and runners are felicitated by the Headmaster.

This practice has enhanced the subject knowledge, subject content grasping as well as reading skills and interest among the students.
