

Mobile Library (Kali Kit Kot)

The programme has been implemented on a pilot basis in Meghalaya through CSR support covering 50 schools of East Khasi Hills district of 8 Blocks. The Mobile Library based in Shillong was launched on 17th February, 2015 in one Govt LP school of Myllem Block.

The Mobile Library aims to reignite reading habits among students, so as to ensure that school children are not deprived of libraries, which is an essential component in school, providing not only resource for learning, but also strengthening the idea of reading for pleasure, recreation and further deepening of knowledge and imagination.

The objective of the Mobile Library is to build a culture of reading among children by providing easy access to reading resources with appropriate reading materials and also allotting a dedicated time to read.

The programme will not only lend books to children, but will also donate books to the schools and introduce various reading activities in schools. To activate reading in schools.

The Mobile Library will move from school to school with its collection of various books such as children encyclopaedia, short stories, educational books, vocational training books and children's foundational books with a view to inspire reading among young children.

The Mobile Library would also move with a projector and laptop for screening children's film, short educational films and documentaries, which are informative and knowledge building.

After the formal launch, the children were seen to be enthusiastically browsing and animatedly reading the books appeared stimulated and curious with the collection of books. Of particular interest was the graphic novel 'U Sier Lapalang', a favourite Khasi folktale narrating the well known story through a series of colourful and graphic illustrations.

Children spent a lot of time reading books on the spot itself, sharing books and browsing books. At each of the venue, the children themselves are put in charge of keeping track of which child took which book. The elder children would sometimes accompany the younger ones and help them choose books suited to them.

Mode of operation for book lending:

The mode and infrastructure involved in transporting books include crates to store the books, two tables(detachable) to display the books, two carpets for children to sit on and read books, ropes for tying the tables and registers to note down names of borrowers and books lent out. At the end of the visit, the Mobile Library (Kali Kit Kot) donates books to the institute and also follow up is also been undertaken.
